Introduction

At the present stage of the development of Ukraine, the formation of the rule of law state is the process that determines the success of other transformations. In particular, without the developed institutions of the rule of law state, further democratization of public relations in our country, productive socio-economic transformations, the establishment in the public mind of such values as justice, freedom, legal equality, security are impossible. In general, the implementation of the principles and norms of the rule of law state in domestic realities is the
